

Mission Ready Packages Tips

Paul Hogue, National Emergency Management Association (NEMA)
Kim Ketterhagen, NEMA

- Section 1 (MRP Title):
  - If not a NIMS-typed resource, use a similarly constructed title of just a few words to describe the resource. (Note that resources typed by SAADRA already have titles, so those may be used)
- Section 5 (NIMS Resource Typing):
  - Leave lines 17-19 blank if not a NIMS-typed resource
- Section 7 (Mission Capabilities)
  - What can the resource do
  - What is the purpose of deploying that team, or individual, or equipment, or system
  - As stated in EMAC's MRP Job Aid, "The capabilities may include a description of various mission functions, services, and tasks relating to the MRP Title that will be performed by the MRP."
- Section 8 (Detailed Resource Description)
  - Clearly state what is in the resource
  - Primarily equipment - what personnel will take it down and operate it?
  - Team – is a transport vehicle included? If yes, list here.
  - Are there generators, trailers, and other equipment that would come back with the individual or team? If yes, list here.
  - The description should note deployed personnel's specialized training, experience, certificates, or licenses as it relates to their capabilities.
- Section 13 (Deployment Timeline):
  - Number of hours from notification of the resource owner until the resource can deploy (begin movement to the Requesting State). If it takes 12 hours, enter 12 here.
- Section 14 (Travel) and Travel Tab:
  - Leave the travel tab blank since resource deployment location is unknown. Add travel information when an offer is made and deployment location is known.
  - Line 44 on the MRP Tab under Section 14 (Travel) should note any travel and transportation requirements, such as using a van to take personnel or shipment of equipment.
- Section 16 (Equipment) and Equipment Tab:
  - List all equipment that will deploy even if you don't plan to request reimbursement. That way it is covered for liability, and if damaged, repair costs can be requested from the Requesting State if necessary.
  - In the Equipment Tab, if you don't plan to request reimbursement, simply don't enter a cost, but note how many of that equipment will go.